Medical Education
PRISM Centre
Empowering Confidence Through Realistic Training

famus

NHS
Mid and South Essex
NHS Foundation Trust

(Focused Acute Medical Ultrasound course)

Course Overview

The FAMUS course is the recognized point-of-care ultrasound (POCUS) standard for Acute Medicine physicians, designed to enhance the management of acutely unwell adult patients. Endorsed by the Society for Acute Medicine and recognized by the AIM training committee, this course provides a structured pathway for achieving AIM POCUS competencies

Learning Outcomes

- Identify key anatomical structures in thoracic, abdominal, and vascular ultrasound images.
- Perform ultrasound techniques in real time
- Distinguish normal from pathological findings
- Recognise the limitation of POCUS that necessitates further imaging or expert input
- Integrate ultrasound findings with clinical information to make clinical decisions
- Contribute to training or supervision of junior colleagues in basic POCUS techniques

Date & Time

- Date: 07 November 2026
- Time: 0845-1630
- Place: The PRISM Centre, Postgrad Building, Basildon
- Course Fees: Consultant - £375 & All other grades - £250

(Limited sponsored places available. Early booking is recommended as spaces are limited.)

Click this link to apply

Or

Use the QR Code

Course Director: Dr. Jitendra Siyani Consultant, ED
Co-Director: Dr. Lamay Rehman, ST7 Anaesthesia
Co-Ordinator: Mr Wilson Alvares (Sim & C/S Lead, MSE)

For more details, please contact mse.simulation.suite.btuh@nhs.net
or
Contact: 01268524900 x34672